Alexandria INNOVATION CAMPUS

Overview

- Located in the Potomac Yard region of Alexandria.
- Serves masters and doctoral students.
- 3 building complex is planned with the first building set to be completed by 2024.
- The first class of students was admitted in Fall 2020. These students are taking their classes online and at the Falls Church Northern Virginia Campus (NVC) until the first building of the campus is completed

Observations

- About a five to 10 minute drive from Virginia Tech's Washington Alexandria Architecture Center.
- Near a large shopping center and additional urban development.
- About a five minute drive from Reagan National Airport.
- Not much has been constructed. It looks like they are working on the foundation of the building.

Alexandria WASHINGTON- ALEXANDRIA ARCHITECTURE CENTER

1001 Prince St.
Alexandria, VA 22314

Overview

- Established in 1981.
- An extension to the Virginia Tech School of Architecture and Design.

Observations

- About a five to 10 minute drive from the future site of Virginia Tech's Innovation Center.
- A 2 building complex. One building is a library and resource center and the second building has architecture studios inside.
- In the heart of old town Alexandria.
- The complex looked closed when I went. No one was entering or leaving the buildings. Not many people were parked around the building,

Arlington VIRGINIA TECH RESEARCH CENTER

900 N. Glebe Rd.
Arlington, VA 22203

Overview

- Home to many of the research centers and laboratories in the DC-metro area.
- Includes the Health Research Lab, Center for Energy and the Global Environment, Center for Economic and Community Engagement, Center for Leadership in Global Sustainability, Center for Artificial Intelligence and Data Analytics, the Hume Center for National Security and Technology, and the Computational Bioinformatics and Bio-imaging Lab.

Observations

- The newest building of the ones that I visited.
- People were going inside the building.
- It looked like people were inside doing work for summer labs and programs.

Falls Church NORTHERN VIRGINIA CENTER (NVC)

17054 Haycock Rd.
Falls Church, VA 22043

Overview

- Home of the Data Mining and Visualization Lab, Mobile Computing Lab, Nuclear Science and Engineering Lab, Cyber Security Lab, Smart Grid Resilience Lab, and the System Performance lab.
- Temporary location of in-person classes for students at the Innovation Campus until 2024.

Observations

- Larger than anticipated.
- Virginia Tech and UVA used to share this building but UVA no longer occupies the space anymore.
  - This happened less than a year ago.
- People were entering and leaving the building and the parking lot was about halfway full.
  - They don't share their parking lot with anyone else.
